BLACK

The Black Aragonite Bowl is a true work of art sourced from deep beneath the Earth. This hand-carved decorative bowl in an intense shade of black strikes a seemingly impossible blend of strength and elegance. The robust natural curves surrounding the piece in addition to the subtle veining of the stone reminds us that this bowl is a natural wonder crafted directly by the Earth itself. The Black Aragonite Canoe Bowl is a one-of-a-kind treasure crafted from the Earth itself, now available to become the newest addition to your home decor.

WHITE

Onyx is usually seen with splashes of white within the natural banding, however, it is quite rare to see a piece of natural onyx that is completely white. As the crowd pleasers we at Phillips Collection are, we have scoured the Earth for these precious stones and carved them into an assortment of awe-inspiring decorative bowls. The White Onyx Bowls boast a milky white shade that puts the organic nature of the precious mineral on full display. Each White Onyx Bowl is unique and one-of-a-kind; shape and size will be unique between each bowl, and color will vary between white and off white colors with some pieces featuring hints of brown tones. The unrepeatable nature of these natural works of art empowers you to personally select your own perfect, exclusive souvenir straight from the depths of the Earth.

GRAY

Sometimes, a splash of vibrant color is just the thing a space needs to become a cohesive design statement. Other times, all you need are subtle and reserved hues to bring your space back down to earth. Coming deep from the earth itself, our Gray Onyx Bowls display natural band patterns in a variety of shades ranging from black to white. The result is a collage of muted colors that brings a refined, earthy feel to an interior space. These of these elegant, one-of-a-kind ashen colored bowls introduce a natural element to your space, acting as the adhesive that keeps the aesthetic of your decor cohesive and grounded.

ZEBRA

Run wild with Phillips Collection's Zebra Onyx Bowls. These decorative bowls are crafted from natural onyx sourced from deep beneath the surface of the earth. A majestic shade of golden yellow intermingles with white and black banding patterns to create markings similar to that of a zebra's coat. Each bowl is organically shaped, meaning it is entirely unique and will vary in shape, size, coloration, and banding pattern. The gorgeous variety of shapes and color the Zebra Onyx Bowl offers will liven up your space by introducing a healthy dose of natural flair.

BLUE (CALCITE)

Calcite, formed over decades from the precipitation of calcium-rich water, is one of the most popular minerals in the world due to its near-unlimited list of useful applications. Usually broken down and used to make other compounds, Phillips Collection wanted to show off this wonderful mineral in its raw, natural state with the Blue Calcite Bowl. The calcite's entrancing blue shade is accented by streaks of white veining across the bowl, creating a pattern reminiscent of the ebb and flow of deep blue ocean waves. Each Blue Calcite Bowl is hand-carved and completely one-of-a-kind, allowing you to personalize your selection and fully express yourself through your decor.

FLUORITE

Fluorite is a special kind of mineral with many unique properties, the most noticeable of which is the multitude of different colors that can be found within just a tiny piece. Surprisingly, natural fluorite is colorless and only acquires color through the presence of other elements or factors like heat and radiation. Phillips Collection pulled no punches when designing the Fluorite Bowl, giving the chameleon-like properties of the mineral ample room to shine. These astonishing, one-of-a-kind decorative bowls have been hand-carved from natural fluorite and exhibit a kaleidoscope of color that will breathe new life into any interior space.

BROWN

Phillips Collection's Brown Onyx Bowls are naturally occurring, one-of-a-kind pieces of hand-carved art that were sourced from deep below the surface of the planet. The earthbound hue of these gorgeous tabletop accessories are accented by numerous shades of organic banding, ranging from white to light red. The result is a stunning blend of tones that remind us nothing can match the level of detail and craftsmanship inherent in everything created by the invisible hand of Mother Nature.

RED

Red, the color of health, courage, and passion. We at Phillips Collection are rather obsessed with the color red, because no other color can communicate such a wide range of emotions and ideas. Hand carved with red onyx and with natural banding in a spectrum of browns and whites, each decorative bowl is one-of-a-kind and possesses a fiery personality that will make it a highlight within your interior decor.
